Not a submarine

Commissioned by the UN and led by Nick Fury, the Helicarrier is S.H.I.E.L.D.'s mobile base in the Marvel Cinematic Universe. Equally at home in the air or at sea, it runs on advanced engines, turbines and, later, repulsors. Doubling as an airfield for various aircraft, including Quinjets, it's ideal for reconnaissance, stealth and battle. It hosts key moments in the saga, both funny and solemn. In Marvel Studios' The Avengers (2012), it's an assembly place for the Avengers; Loki is held in a containment cell, the Hulk (inevitably) wreaks havoc and Nick Fury witnesses the heart-wrenching demise of Phil Coulson. In Avengers: Age of Ultron, without on-deck amenities, Fury makes a grand entrance in the "pulled her out of mothballs" Helicarrier to aid the Avengers in Sokovia.

From the LEGO® Marvel Design Team

We made a significant effort to make this model as close to the Helicarrier seen in Marvel Studios' The Avengers (2012) as possible, with references to multiple movie scenes. (The Helicarriers seen in Captain America: The Winter Soldier (2014) serve a different purpose.) Advanced hinge, clip and sloped building techniques recreate the Helicarrier's unusual shapes and angled runways. The lower runway slides out to reveal interior rooms, and throughout the model, stacked 1x1 round tiles mark the S.H.I.E.L.D. agents and Avengers in action.

Step inside for a minute

The LEGO® version of this base for S.H.I.E.L.D. – Strategic Homeland Intervention, Enforcement and Logistics Division – is full of authentic details and a few creative modifications.* To keep the model balanced and sturdy, the rear lab is moved back, and the watchtower is slightly oversized to fit more details. And Captain America's table is round (instead of a pentagon shape) for easy recognition.

An enraged Hulk goes on a rampage.

Avengers and agents assemble on the bridge.

Meet Agent Rachael! One of the stacks of 1x1 plates representing a S.H.I.E.L.D. agent has a LEGO® roller skate element as its lower part – a nod to our design-team intern who uses a wheelchair.
